VOLUME LV

This is the year of dreams, the year of looking back on a rich past and ahead to a promising future. Hundreds of students have gone from this school to take their places in colleges, vocation and jobs. The records of achievement which they have left behind and the measure of success that have followed have made Saunemin High School an institution of learning of which any community would be proud to call its own. To all past alumni and the student body which had made Saunemin High what it is—we, the yearbook staff, dedicate this book; in this, the final edition of our annual.

As President of the Class of 1987, I can definitely submit that we tried to make Saunemin High School's last graduating class the best! Throughout our four years at SHS, my classmates and I have worked extremely hard. The result of our labors shows in our outstanding achievement in academics, athletics, and other extra-curricular activities. As freshmen, we set our main goal on a class trip to Florida. We raised money by collecting aluminum cans, and selling everything from candy and cheese to breakfast and supper tickets. Many thanks are in order to our parents, who were always willing to help, to Mrs. Immke, who put up with us for four years of complaining and during the trip, and to other faculty members especially Nancy Fox. Saunemin High School has been good to all of us. Although it is a small school, it has produced some of the finest people in the world! The Class of 1987 is proud to have been a part of Saunemin schools.

GRADUATION

After four years of magazine sales, breakfasts, suppers, Dr. Nicoloff's sale, candy and cheese sales, saving cans, and the ever popular candy room, the Class of '87 departed from Indianapolis on May 20. During our stopover in Atlanta, the boys bought some "airplanes" and managed to be kamikaze pilots on the concourse. After an extended and "crowded" tour of International Drive, we checked into our motel. Thursday was spent at Disney World. (We thought we "lost" Karri at Space Mountain.) We spent a fun-filled day at Wet and Wild on Friday. Even I went down the water slides, although it was a bumpy ride. Thursday night while some of the boys were showing their "skill" with the go-karts, Tony had the misfortune of misplacing his wallet. We started Saturday with a visit to Sea World and enjoyed Baby Shamu and the water show. From there it was on to Epcot Center where everyone seemed to have a thoroughly good time. Sunday we took in Boardwalk and Baseball. Here we added a new member, Wilber, to our group! Monday we transferred to Cocoa Beach and went to Kennedy Space Center and the beach. For many, the highlight of the trip was the Sea Escape Cruise on the next to the last day of the trip. (We know it was a memorable occasion for Mr. Vaughan—the show in the lounge!) We spent a very enjoyable day on the ship doing a variety of activities, plus getting little sunburned. On Wednesday, May 27, we returned to Orlando (it was a little crowded in the vans) for some more shopping, (Sue does love to shop) and our return flight home. The Class of '87 spent an enjoyable eight days in Florida.

I, Mrs. Immke, would like to take this opportunity to thank the Class of '87 for their cooperation and the many good times we shared these past four years. I am going to miss you (but not the restaurant bills in Florida)! Best wishes and good luck to each of you.

Mrs. Immke, Sponsor

All the way from Illinois . . . Disney World's newest characters!

A glimpse of the three "beauties", Sue, Karri, and Deb, catching some rays on the Sea Escape Cruise.

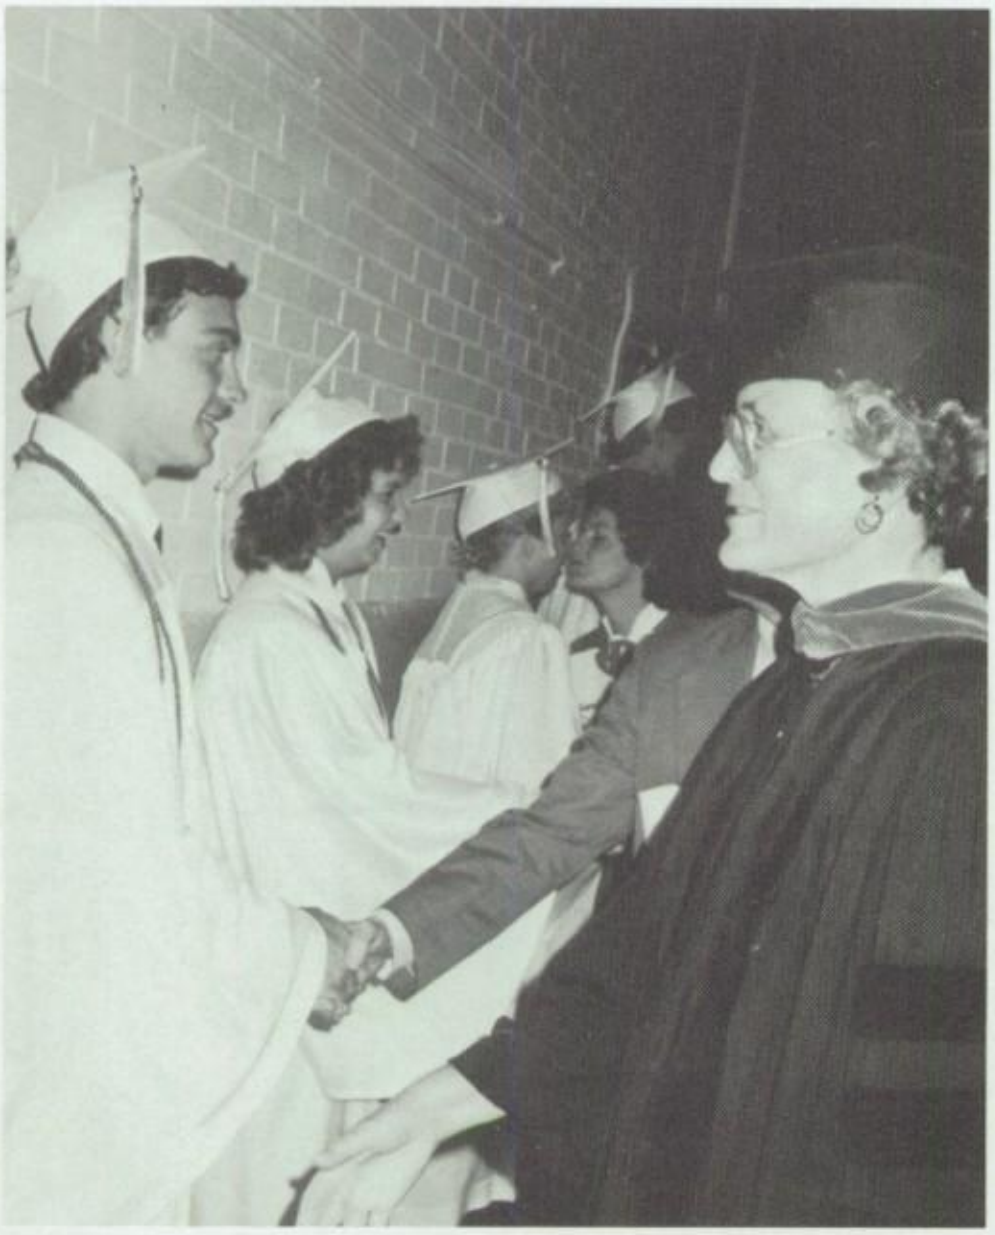
Pluto was our first friend (and maybe the only one) we met at Disney World.

Our faithful leaders, Mr. Vaughan and Mrs. Immke, were captured by the camera without worry or wear. It must have been the first day!

While the rest of the crew were entertaining themselves elsewhere, Nelson and Pat "posed" while attempting to brave the waves.

GRADUATION

The 1987 graduating class of Saunemin High School. Front; Brenda Housman, Kay O'Dell, Gina Jones, Ann Saxton, Susie Rich, Karri Dietz, & Debbie Becker. Back; Randy Rich, George Lane, Nelson Thomas, Denny Wunsch, Ray (Tony) Drach, [illegible] Hobart, Scott Crouch, Craig Alford, & David Wojtaszek.



Tears and long faces were seen throughout the graduation ceremony. I think everyone had a tear in their eye when valedictorian, Ray Drach, gave his speech. He put into words what everyone was feeling.

It was a great privilege to have the Honorable Thomas Ewing at our graduation. He is probably the only person to receive an honorary diploma from Saunemin High. Thanks to a Bill sponsored by Ewing, Saunemin was able to convert into a dual district. Our speaker for the night was Dr. Patricia Chesebro, Associate Professor in Psychology at Illinois State University and former graduate and Superintendent of Saunemin High. Dr. Chesebro spoke of goals to maintain throughout life and not to quit because there are always better things to stride for.

Now with the ceremony over, we go to the saddest part, saying goodbye.

TAKE
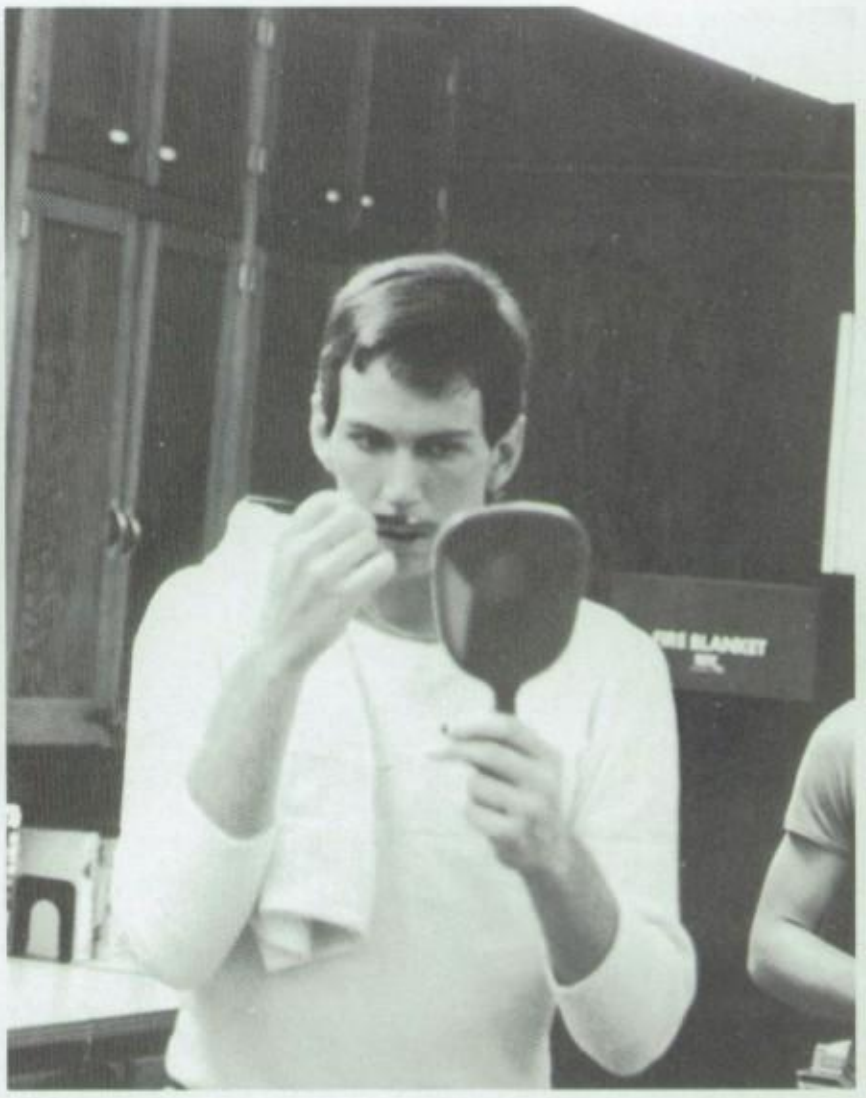
HOME

The Mash play was a big success with the help of this equipment, and, with the direction of Linda Tipsord. Of course, this same lighting equipment nearly burned the entire building down!



To more fulfill his role as Henry Blake, Tony Drach dons a last-minute moustache.

The Bonwit Sisters, played by Karri Dietz, Deb Becker, and Debbie Baier, altogether stole the show with their "extraordinary" dance routine.

Debby Baier was the unlucky soul who got to put Don Becker's make-up on. As you can see, he's really enjoying it!!

Randy Rich and Nelson Thomas, as Hawkeye Pierce and Duke Forrest, are dressed somewhat appropriately to entertain the gang at the 4077th.

The whole "crew" looks very happy. Could it be because this was the very last scene?

Kari Wojtaszek and Klinger, played by Danny Hobart, seem to be dancing up a storm in the mess hall.

The nurses at the 4077th, played by Kristi Hanley, Sue Rich, and Tammy Drach, look upon the Bonwit Sisters with loathing. The men, however, appear to think otherwise.

PROM

The Class of 1988
invites you to attend
our Farewell Prom
at Saunemin High School
on Saturday, April 25
Nineteen hundred and eighty-seven from 8:00 p.m. - 11:00 p.m.

A lot of years we've been lucky to get a picture of prom in the papers at all, this year we even made the front page! While it's maybe not quite as important as some of the other headlines, it does mean a lot to us. Especially to the Queen Karri Dietz and King Dennis Wunsch. Possibly it's an even trade off for not being able to come back and crown next year's royalty.

A dance like this has to evoke memories, if not of other dances at least of this one. My memory is always going to be Sherry Pennington's mildly hot pepper cheese dip. THAT, my friends, is a memory.

SUPPERS

How many suppers? How many chickens, hams, potatoes, cans of corn, cartons of milk, PIES???? How many more of these things do I have to work at? Should we have a salad bar again, somebody wants to try fish. It's been years since anybody did fish at one of these things. Everybody groaned, but just about everybody worked. Some parents even got to work several a year, they got really good at washing chicken wings and cutting pies. The last supper was kind of a sober affair, some sat and talked about all the time they had spent doing "these things," others almost appeared happy there wouldn't be another one. Can't really understand that, you?

A Look At

This class of "88" really has two main goals for this year. The first of these is to make the last PROM of Saunemin High School the best ever. The second, is to raise enough money to take a trip to Florida at the end of the year.

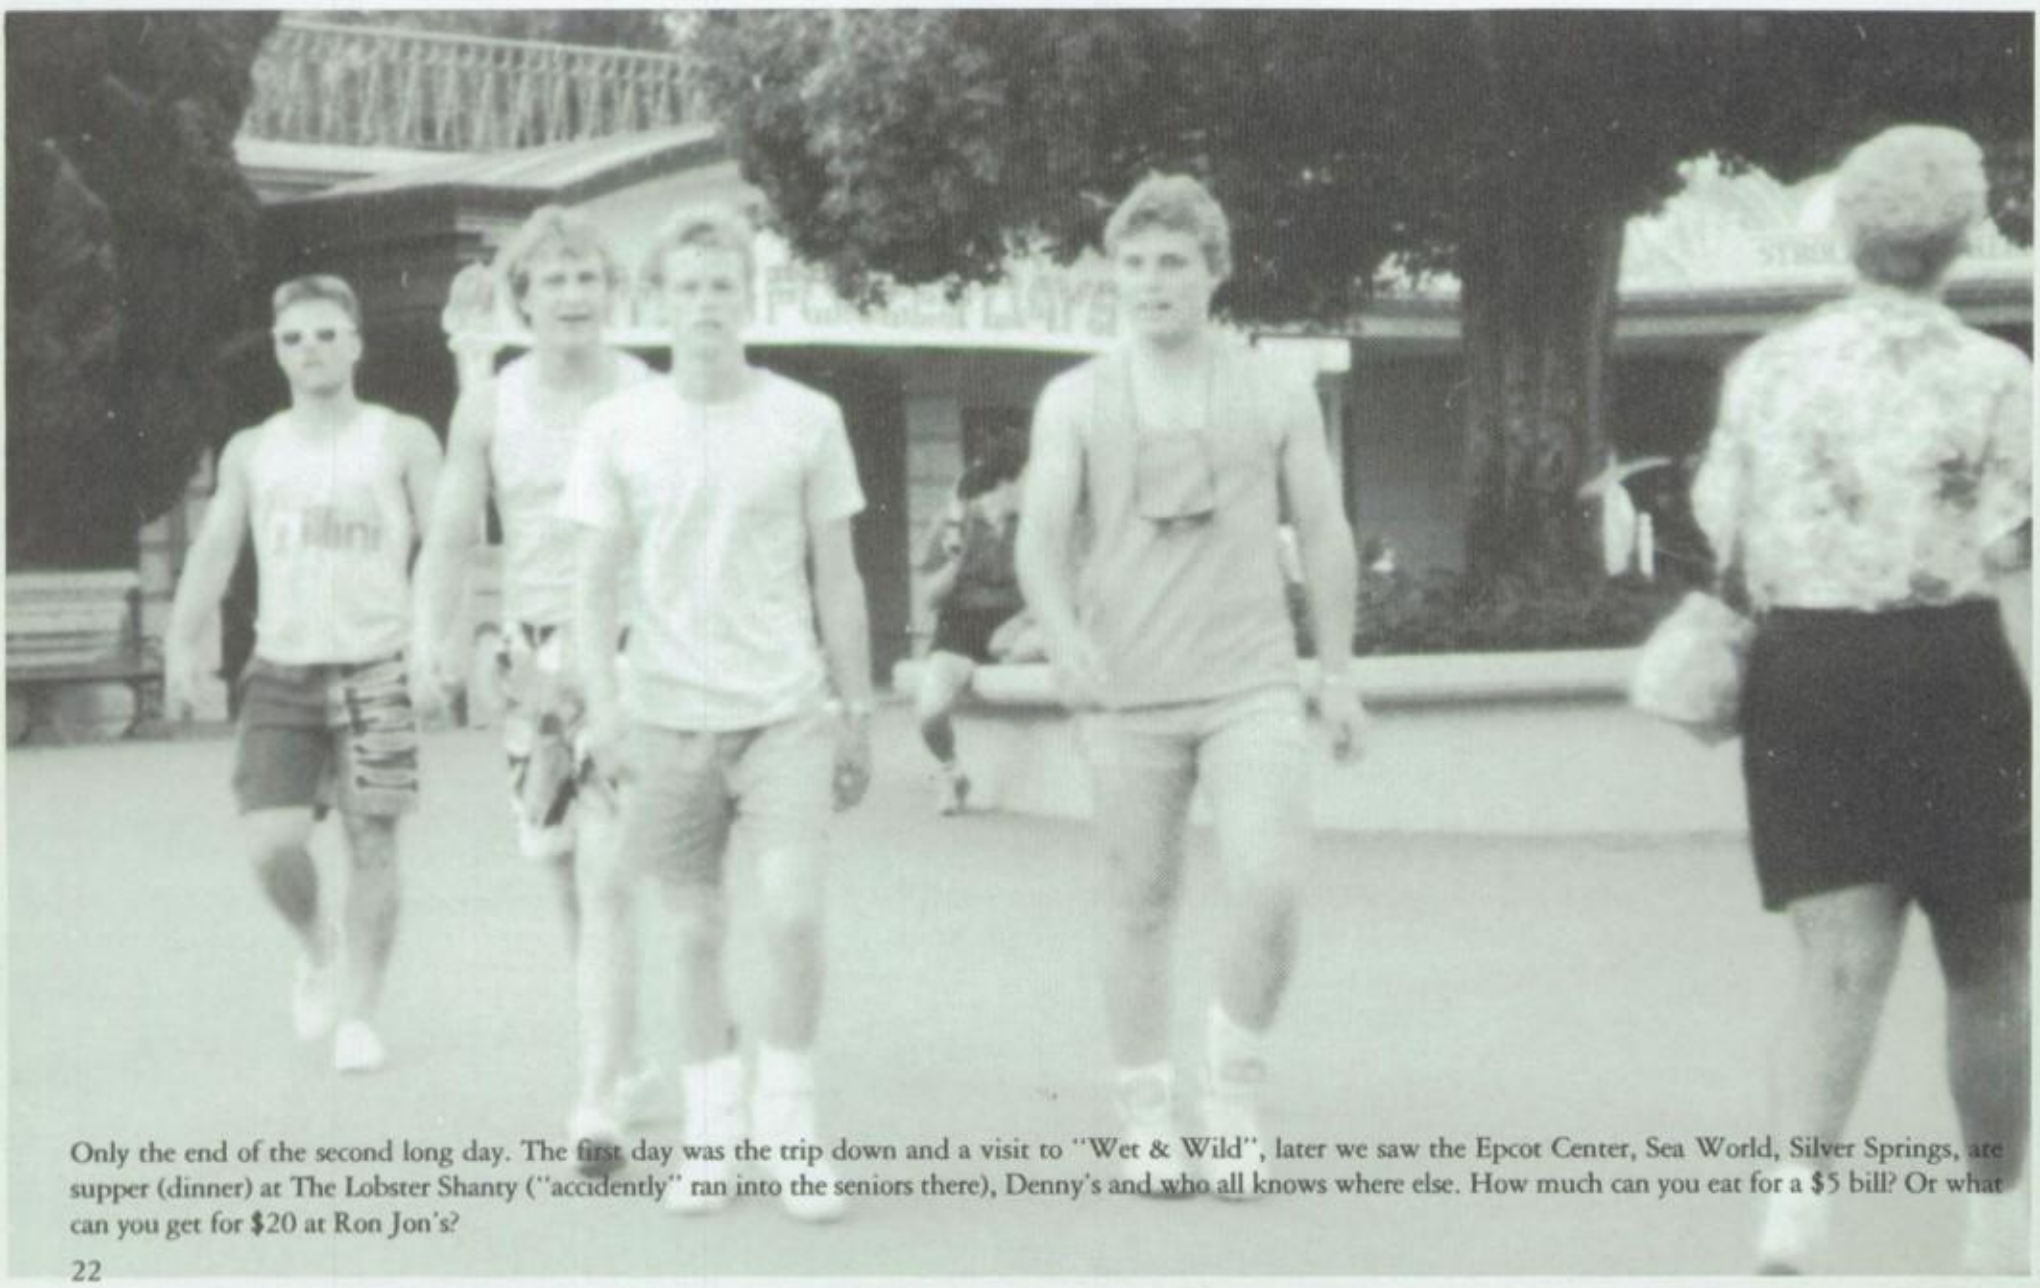
FLORIDA TRIP

Tradition seems to dictate a picture in front of Mickey Mouse, but to be able to see him you only have to be about 40 feet tall. Little things like that never bothered Linda, and I guess not those four girls.

A trip to Florida on school time were the early rewards of three years labor. Mark wondered what we could have afforded after four years, Mike was just glad to get to Florida.

Since we sell the school board on the trips as a learning experience, it's nice to show one. I don't know what Kris, Deb & Kim learned, but Tammy can tell you a bunch about a 40 pound purse and Disney land. Whatever you needed, she had. If you could just find her.



Only the end of the second long day. The first day was the trip down and a visit to "Wet & Wild", later we saw the Epcot Center, Sea World, Silver Springs, ate supper (dinner) at The Lobster Shanty ("accidently" ran into the seniors there), Denny's and who all knows where else. How much can you eat for a $5 bill? Or what can you get for $20 at Ron Jon's?

SOPHOMORES

When the year started out, we weren't sure what kind of trip we would have . . . if any! Once the vote passed that made the annexation final, we knew we would have a short trip, but we wanted to make the best of it. We started exploring different places to go. Once Florida came up, there was no doubt that's where we wanted to go. We found out approximately how much money it would take, and worked towards that goal. And come May 23, we'll be on our way to Orlando.

As you can see, the Sophomores don't look too energetic, and the airport isn't too busy. Being as it was 5:00 a.m. and they hadn't had any sleep for 24 hours, it was understandable.

Joe spends a little time watching TV in the airport. No doubt he is probably watching Vanna turn some letters.

Our fearless leaders relax a little after a long and hard day of chasing after 12 kids.

Michelle poses with a new found friend. (Could it have come from another new found friend?) With her, Tammy and Jill take time out for a break in the action.

Certainly Shawn, Mike, and Scot aren't trying to pick up any girls—are they?!

he "Triplets."

hawn displays his favorite souvenir from Disney—a pop can (his mom will e thrilled), and Robby tries to figure out how to work the camera to capure this moment on film. If only he knew which button to push!

The Class of '89 had two short years to work for their trip. At the last moment when Florida seemed to be impossible, a miracle $99 round-trip flight was found. We made it there with no major problems (only Joseph and his fear of—not flying—crashing.) No one got lost as hard as we tried, and no one got in trouble (except for the fire extinguisher glass did have a slight problem of being breakable.) The boys did upset the girls, however, when they bombed them with water balloons when they were ready to go one morning and had to change. We safely arrived home with sunburns, no money, and fatigue, but a lot of memories.

FOR the sophomores it's a year of work; everything from Mr. Paterozzi's biology slide tests to the cake raffles, dinners and sales for fund raising. Rewards can be slim; but most of them are well worth the effort involved. Drivers education is one of the bigger rewards available, everybody wants a drivers license. Some students even study for it. Then you have the good time guys; the real party animals, like Shawn and Chuck here. Just by looking, you can tell, "These guys know what it's all about." Actually, though, I guess that's only true until you get right down to playing Monopoly. But then, what can you say?

The Freshmen class goal is to earn enough money to go on a three day trip to St. Louis. I feel confident that our class will have enough money to do so.

ADMINISTRATION

A very demanding year. We faced the potential for closing the entire school due to lack of funds and declining assessed valuation. We were told we could not convert this district in one year due to time constrictions. We were told we couldn't have a ballot item because we were on the ballot in November. We had thirteen people compete for seven School Board seats in February. We had accomplished the impossible. July looms near and detachment petitions could cause the closing of the newly formed K-8 district. Have we built the new district of brick and mortar or straw?

THE BOARD OF EDUCATION

This year the board was faced with a major decision in August when the state legislature approved a bill allowing for dissolution of a unit type school district into the dual district type. If the board asked the voters to approve this move, and it passed, the high school would close, the students go to Pontiac Township High School, and a new grade school would be formed. It all came to pass, and with it a host of new challenges for the board to confront. Decisions about faculty & staff, disposal of property, the high school building and hundreds of other major and minor problems had to be made and enacted. Nothing came easy, from hiring the first attorney to throwing the last shovel of dirt onto the hole that had been the high school. Added to this monumental task were the normal responsibilities of a board during the school year. Lots of long days, late nights, and no financial reward.

The members of the Board of Education, Saunemin Community Unit School District No. 6; Carol Rich, SHS '61; Jim Schultz, SHS '72; Virginia Spafford; Cheryl O'Donnell, SHS '65; Howard Freeland, SHS '54; Mary Seabert; and Bill Rich, SHS '79. The picture was taken in the study hall-library, in front of some of the oak book cases donated to the school by one of the graduating classes.

Howard, president of the board, and his ever present pipe.

The deliberations over the fate of the high school building. After appointing a committee of community representatives and faculty members for guidance, the board needed to come to terms with their recommendation to destroy the 1917 portion of the building and save the gym annex (1937). Architects were hired to see if this was possible, a construction firm signed to do the work, and the building removed. All between November 1986 and June 30, 1987.

SUPPORT

MARILYN ELLIOT

Livingston County Health Dept. School Nurse. She looked for funny backs, little bugs, and made sure all the shots and health records were kept up to date. Also doubled as a great cave woman on Halloween.

VICTOR JOHNS III

Head custodian of a staff of one. One of those people that can get a lot done, and does. A whole lot more than someone to push a broom and clean the chalkboards.

KAREN KOHLMEIER

Head of the cafeteria and grade school secretary. A lady that did more than most of us will ever know. Always ready to help the faculty or any of the students.

LARRY EXTON

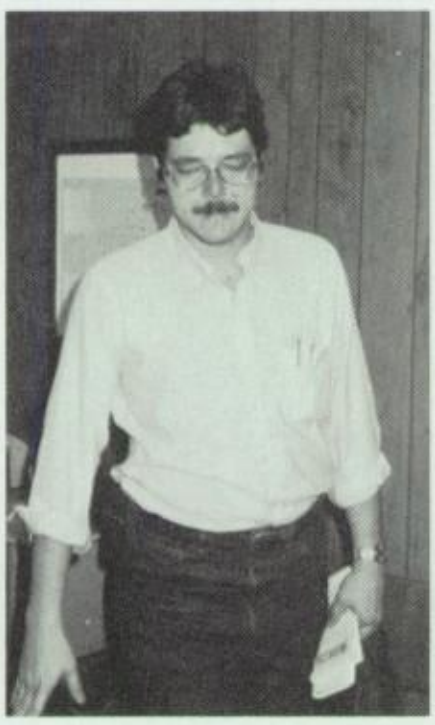
Guidance and counselling. Helped Mr. Vaughan get the seniors into the schools they wanted, and worked on study skills with the others.

LUETTA MAUBACH & CHRIS DONOVAN

The cooks. Frequently, they had something to say. Sometimes, you even knew why they said it. But as often as not the twinkle in their eye told you they were just helping you through another day.

VIC JOHNS, DONNA GEORGE & HAROLD DAVID

The bus drivers. To and from school, and then on to the Vocational Center, day after day. Sometimes you hated to get on that thing in the morning, and couldn't wait to get off at night; other days it was the other way around. And you always had to remember, a bus only has so many front seats, so you need to be good.



THE PRESS

MIKE MURPHY, TOM DORAN & SHARON SHIFFLET

Writing for "The Daily Leader", "The Emington Joker", and "The Cullom Chronicle"; the three were kept busy with the school board meetings about closing the high school, a wonderful basketball season, and all the other things that go on during a school year. Everything they wrote made us look at least as good as we were, and some of it maybe even better. There was never a shortage of clippings for the bulletin boards.

ACTIVITIES

Deb was the treasurer this year and also did some research, copy writing (short stories mostly), and anything else we needed. Mark was just in the room at the right time. He also said he would give me $100 if we got another picture of him in the book. Mark, I'm still waiting!

This is what the office looked like after we had to move into the basement of the grade school building. It did beat having the high school fall down around us. I even cleaned it up a little before I took this picture, not much, just a little.

Members of the staff not pictured were Ray Drach, Business Manager; Craig Alford & Randy Rich, Photographers; Brenda Housman, Research; Tammy Drach, Typist; Vic Johns & Nelson Thomas, Ad Sales; Sherry Pennington, Student Book Sales; and of course, Mr. Tipsord. Everyone did a little bit of everything, so titles can be a bit misleading.

The staff took on an extra difficult burden when we decided to attempt the extra section at the end of this year's book. We had to watch expenses, how we used the pages, how many books to order (we ordered 600, only 530 more than last year), how to get word to the SHS Alumni, how to deliver the books to nearly every state in the union, how much to charge and not feel guilty, and how to handle the financial side of the book after the Unit District closed its doors the first of July. I would like to thank them all.

I would also like to thank the Saunemin High School Alumni Association for assuming the financial responsibilities for us. Without their assistance, everything would have been so much more difficult in the last few days of getting everything put together and distributing the fruits of our labour. Thanks once again.

As Editor, Ann was required to review the pages as they were finished; someone had to make sure we got everything put in the correct envelopes, nothing was messed-up or left out. Therefore, if you notice anything wrong, it's Ann's fault. Sure feels good to be able to say that!

Sue (Assistant Editor) and Kristi turned into the best caption and copy writers we had. Every once in a while, they did get a little verbose; but what can you say?

HOMECOMING

1986 saw the last homecoming dance. Since football was dropped in mid-season in 1969, homecoming has been resurrected first into the basketball and later into alternating between basketball and volleyball seasons. Honored as the last Homecoming Queen and King were Susie Rich and Scott Crouch.

Decorating for the dance can sometimes be more fun than the dance itself. Beside that, it can be a vocational training ground for lots of different areas. Rich Fox is demonstrating his acquired ability in standing on a ladder, while Kristi Hanley shows the proper form for unrolling and cutting streamers. But that's not all, Sherry Pennington and Tammie Bull are becoming quite proficient in punching out foil stars. And so many people don't realize the educational potential of dances.

Crowns for the last King & Queen of Saunemin High School Homecoming were carried forward by Christopher Cramer (son of Mrs. Diane Cramer) and Kacie Gerdes (daughter of Mr. & Mrs. Roger Gerdes). Maybe, someday, they can reign as King & Queen at one of their high school dances. No dance is complete without last year's royalty, so Ebus Estes and Aaron Fox returned to assist in the festivities. They warrant a nice (we hope) picture of their own because last year's just didn't turn out.

e Court: Dawn Karr, Tammy Drach, Kim Houtzel, Sherry Pennington, Ebus Estes, Kacie Gerdes, Deb Becker, Karri Dietz, Ann Saxton, Sue Rich, Scott ouch, Nelson Thomas, Randy Rich, Ray Drach, Christopher Cramer, Aaron Fox, Vic Johns, Don Becker, Joe Diemer and Bill Melton.

SWEETHEART BALL

Saunemin High had two special reasons for extra celebration at the Sweetheart Ball. The dance saw its 25th anniversary, and, for the first time in its history, two lovely young ladies, Ann Saxton and Debby Becker, who (due to a tie vote) got to share the honors of being crowned Queen. Nelson Thomas was crowned King of the festivities. Other members of the court were Kay Odell, Gina Jones, last years's Queen Paula Dixon, Ann Saxton, Deb Becker, Nelson Thomas, Tony Drach, Pat Hobart, Denny Wunsch, and last year's King Mark Immke.

GOSH

The success of the GOSH club is partly due to its fine officers: Ann Saxton, president; Sue Rich, vice-president; Sherry Pennington, secretary; and Deb Becker, treasurer.

Sponsor Cheryl Culbertson gives instructions to the kids who participated in the annual Easter Egg Hunt.

The youngsters scurry about looking everywhere for the carefully hidden eggs.

GOSH club consists of sponsor Cheryl Culbertson, Dawn Karr, Jill Gahm, Gina Jones, Sue Rich, Deb Becker, Kris Eggenberger, Kay Odell, Kari Wojtaszek, Tammie Bull, Debby Baier, Sherry Pennington, Kim Houtzel, Jill Jones, and Ann Saxton.

S CLUB

The Athletic Banquet held a special moment for Coach Rick Patarozzi as he received a unique plaque from The Saunemin Community Council in appreciation for the many years he has coached here and for the outstanding finish of this final basketball season.

S-Club members are Craig Alford, Donnie Becker, Robby Rich, Mike Rich, Vic Johns, Tony Drach, Shawn O'Donnell, Rich Fox, Deron Ledford, Randy Rich, Mark Spafford, Coach Patarozzi, Scott Croch, Kristi Hanley, Kim Houtzel, Tammie Bull, Ann Saxton, Karri Dietz, Sue Rich, Tammy Drach, Debby Baier, and Deb Becker.

SPORTS

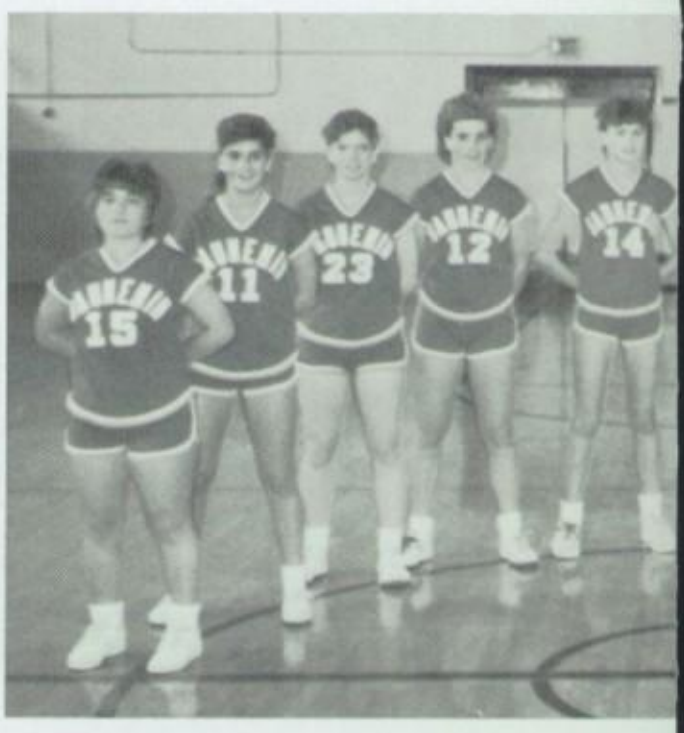
VOLLEYBALL

Volleyball in the 1986 season was one of action for everyone on the Eagle's squad. The twelve dedicated seniors, juniors, and sophomores worked hard to make the team an intimidating force in every match. The 8-12 record does not indicate the exciting, close, extra-point games which characterized the season. The girls played enthusiastically and skillfully with a lack of height and depth being the deciding factor in the matches lost.

Returning letter winners Deb Becker, Karri Dietz, Susie Rich, and Ann Saxton were the foundation for the squad. Brenda Housman, a senior transfer student, helped fill out the squad along with juniors Debby Baier, Tammie Bull and Kim Houtzel; sophomore members of the team were Tammy Drach, Debbie Drury, Jill Gahm, and Kris Hanley.

The juniors and sophomores served double duty playing on both the varsity and junior varsity squads. The JV's, although handicapped with no subs for their team, showed a tremendous amount of promise and posted an amazing 12-6 record. Susie Rich was elected to the Vermillion Valley All-Conference Team and Deb Becker was an honorable mention.

Deb Becker casts a pensive glance toward the bench during the warm-ups before a home game. It's difficult to estimate what may have been popping through her mind as she readies herself for the forthcoming fray. There was some discussion about a white headband instead of the blue one, but that was only speculation. The line-up; Deb Becker, Tam Bull, Debby Baier, Tammy Drach, Kristi Hanley, Jill Gahm, Karri Dietz, Deb Drury, Kim Houtzel, Sue Rich, Ann Saxton, Brenda Housman and Coach Dee Hanner.



Timeouts are an important part of any game, an opportunity for the athletes to rest a moment, for the coach to review what has been wrong and try to change strategy, or to tell the players how well they're doing and encourage them to continue.

Warm-ups before a game, follow through on a serve and concentration during a volley all work together to pay dividends. The 5-2 home advantage on the scoreboard just verifies this.

TRACK

High school track, the forgotten sport. The athletes spend countless hours in preparation for a few seconds of competition: that in all likelihood only a handful of others will see. Still, they go on. Over the past few years, Saunemin has done well in track; especially after looking at all of the distractions. It's usually so cold and wet when practice starts in the spring there may be only a couple days to be outside on the track; there is no track, only a marked oval on the sod, with two square corners and holes in it; boys out for baseball and track are doing two things at once, they sometimes need to decide if a meet or a game is the most important today; and some of the girls keep stats for the baseball team. Despite this, the sport continued. With the coaching from Mr. Carlton and assistance from student scorekeepers the team did their usual proficient best. It was unfortunate that the out of the ordinary activities at the end of the school year precluded participation in the state series of meets. But there is next year.

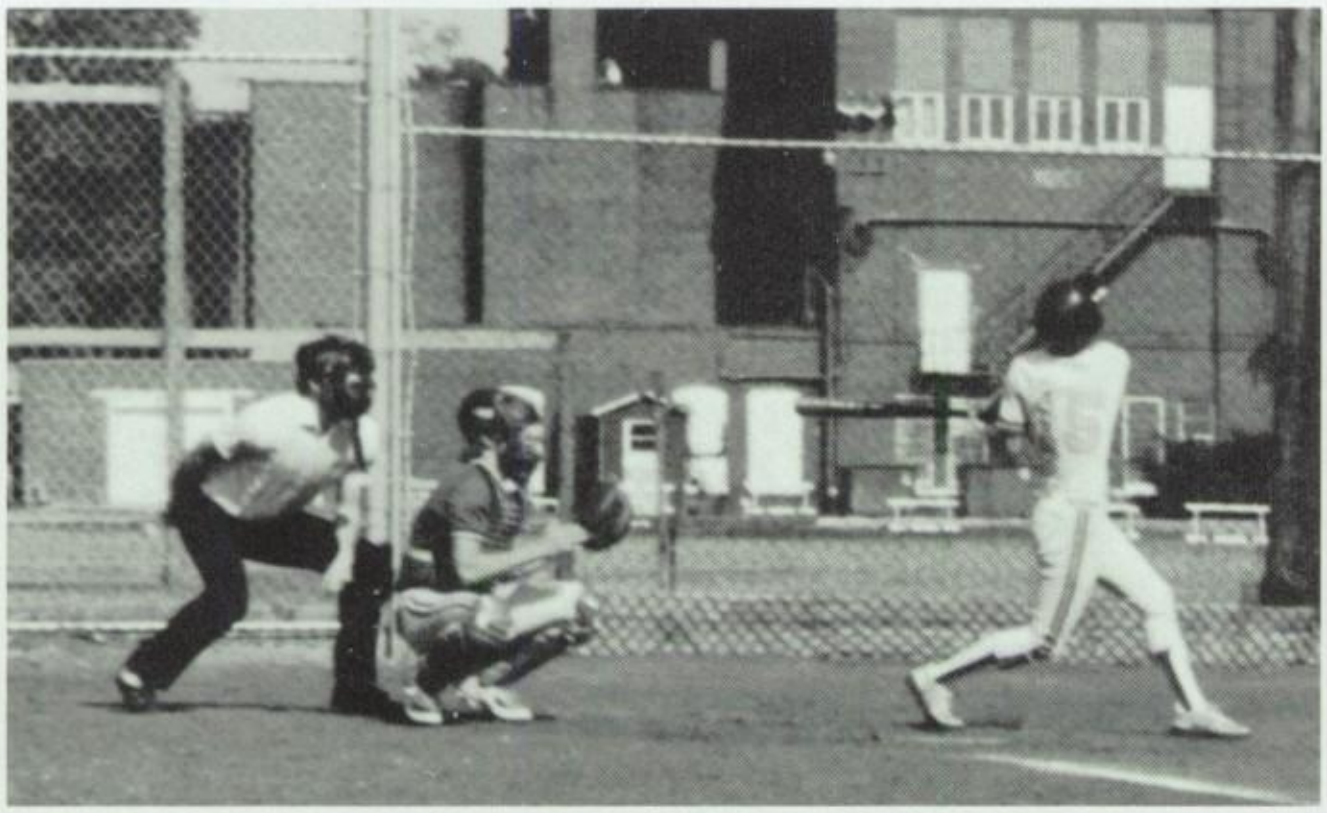
BASEBALL

Here we see first baseman Mike Rich in action with his "best side" showing.

The baseball team consists of Coach Rick Patarozzi, Vic Johns, Craig Alford, Randy Rich, Ray Drach, Mark Spafford, Don Becker, Robby Rich, Shawn O'Donnell, Joe Diemer, Mike Rich, Deron Ledford, and Scot Immke.



Junior Mark Spafford finally seems to be getting into the "swing" of things.

Leftfielder Randy Rich makes a routine catch but seems confused about where to throw it.

Senior Tony Drach delivers a pitch during a game. (Did the radar gun happen to catch the speed of that one?!)

Vic Johns swings for the fences hoping for another homerun.

CHEERLEADERS

Under the direction of a new sponsor, Dianne Hanley, the cheerleading squads set many exciting and challenging goals this year. Our main goal was to place in the competitions against squads from other schools. To prepare us for the judging we attended cheerleading clinics at Illinois State University, sponsored by the National Cheerleading Association, and at Melvin-Sibley, sponsored by Bradley University cheerleaders. Although "gracefulness" was not our biggest asset, we were ready and willing to show our fans the newest ideas we learned.

The Varsity cheerleaders were judged differently this year. Instead of being judged at the VVC clinic, we were judged at various games throughout the season. Cheerleading sponsors from other schools judged us on appearance, loudness, movements, and overall impression. Since we never knew exactly when we were being judged, we had to be at our best at every game and most of all . . . SMILE!! Our hard work payed off though, because we earned 3rd place out of all VVC cheerleading squads.

The J.V. cheerleades were judged at the Fresh.-Soph. Tournament in Tri-Point. Although we had a few "downfalls", we managed to bring home a 4th place rating. It wasn't all hard work though—we had many fun times too. Our newest talents became evident in the skits we did at pep assemblies. (Too bad the T.V. cameras couldn't have come sooner!) Unaware of what was planned for them, the players and coach were eager to "help" us too. They didn't know we were going to make "turkeys" out of them! Also in our "spare" time, we put together a routine which we performed for fans.

The highlight of our season was cheering at the last game at SHS. We were proud to represent our school and we hold many precious memories of that night.

We would like to thank our sponsor, Dianne Hanley, for all her time and PATIENCE this year. (She probably didn't realize what she was getting into!) We would also like to thank all the fans who supported us and cheered with us all the way. Though our town is small, we're BIG in school spirit!!

The success of the team was due in part to the enthusiasm built up by the cheerleaders during pep rallies before the big games. Variety was added to the rallies this year by the skits and stunts the squad added to the usual fair of cheers.

The last home game to be played at Saunemin High School was with Cornell. There were so many fans, some had to sit on chairs around the floor. WCIA Television was there to cover the highlights and do some interviews. Saunemin won, of course; and Sue was seen on TV all over central Illinois

COACHES

At one of the spring home baseball games, Coach Patarozzi had the experience of going head to head against one of the former Saunemin faculty, Mike Ayers. Even the inside knowledge of the coaching strategem of Saunemin wasn't enough to help Coach Ayers and the Saybrook-Arrowsmith Comanches defeat the Eagles. We engaged each other in both basketball and baseball, and were victorious on all occasions. But then, what would you expect?

The coaching staff, Saunemin High School. Rick Patarozzi, basketball & baseball; Diane Hanley, cheerleader sponsor; Larry Carlton, track; Dee Hanner, volleyball; and Dan Vaughan, athletic director. Long hours, late nights, and wondering if you're doing the right thing mark the coaching profession. But ask them if they think it's worth it. The answer is usually a, "Yes." It's not so much for the little bit of money that's involved, more of something about working with the students of Saunemin, having a chance to watch them do well.

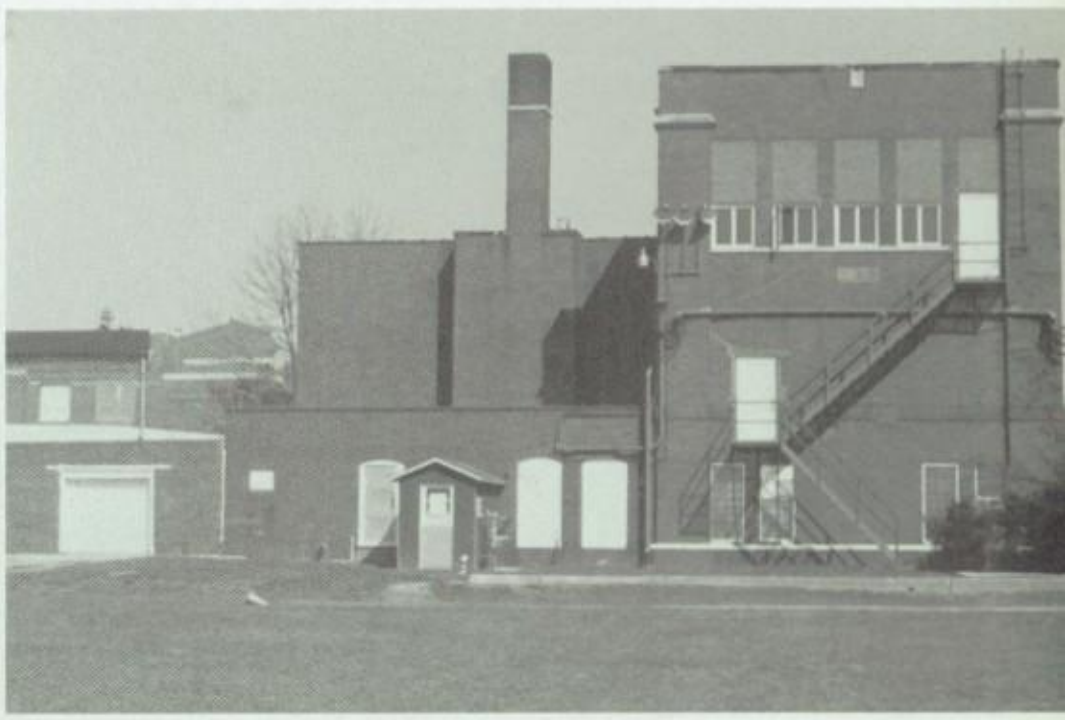
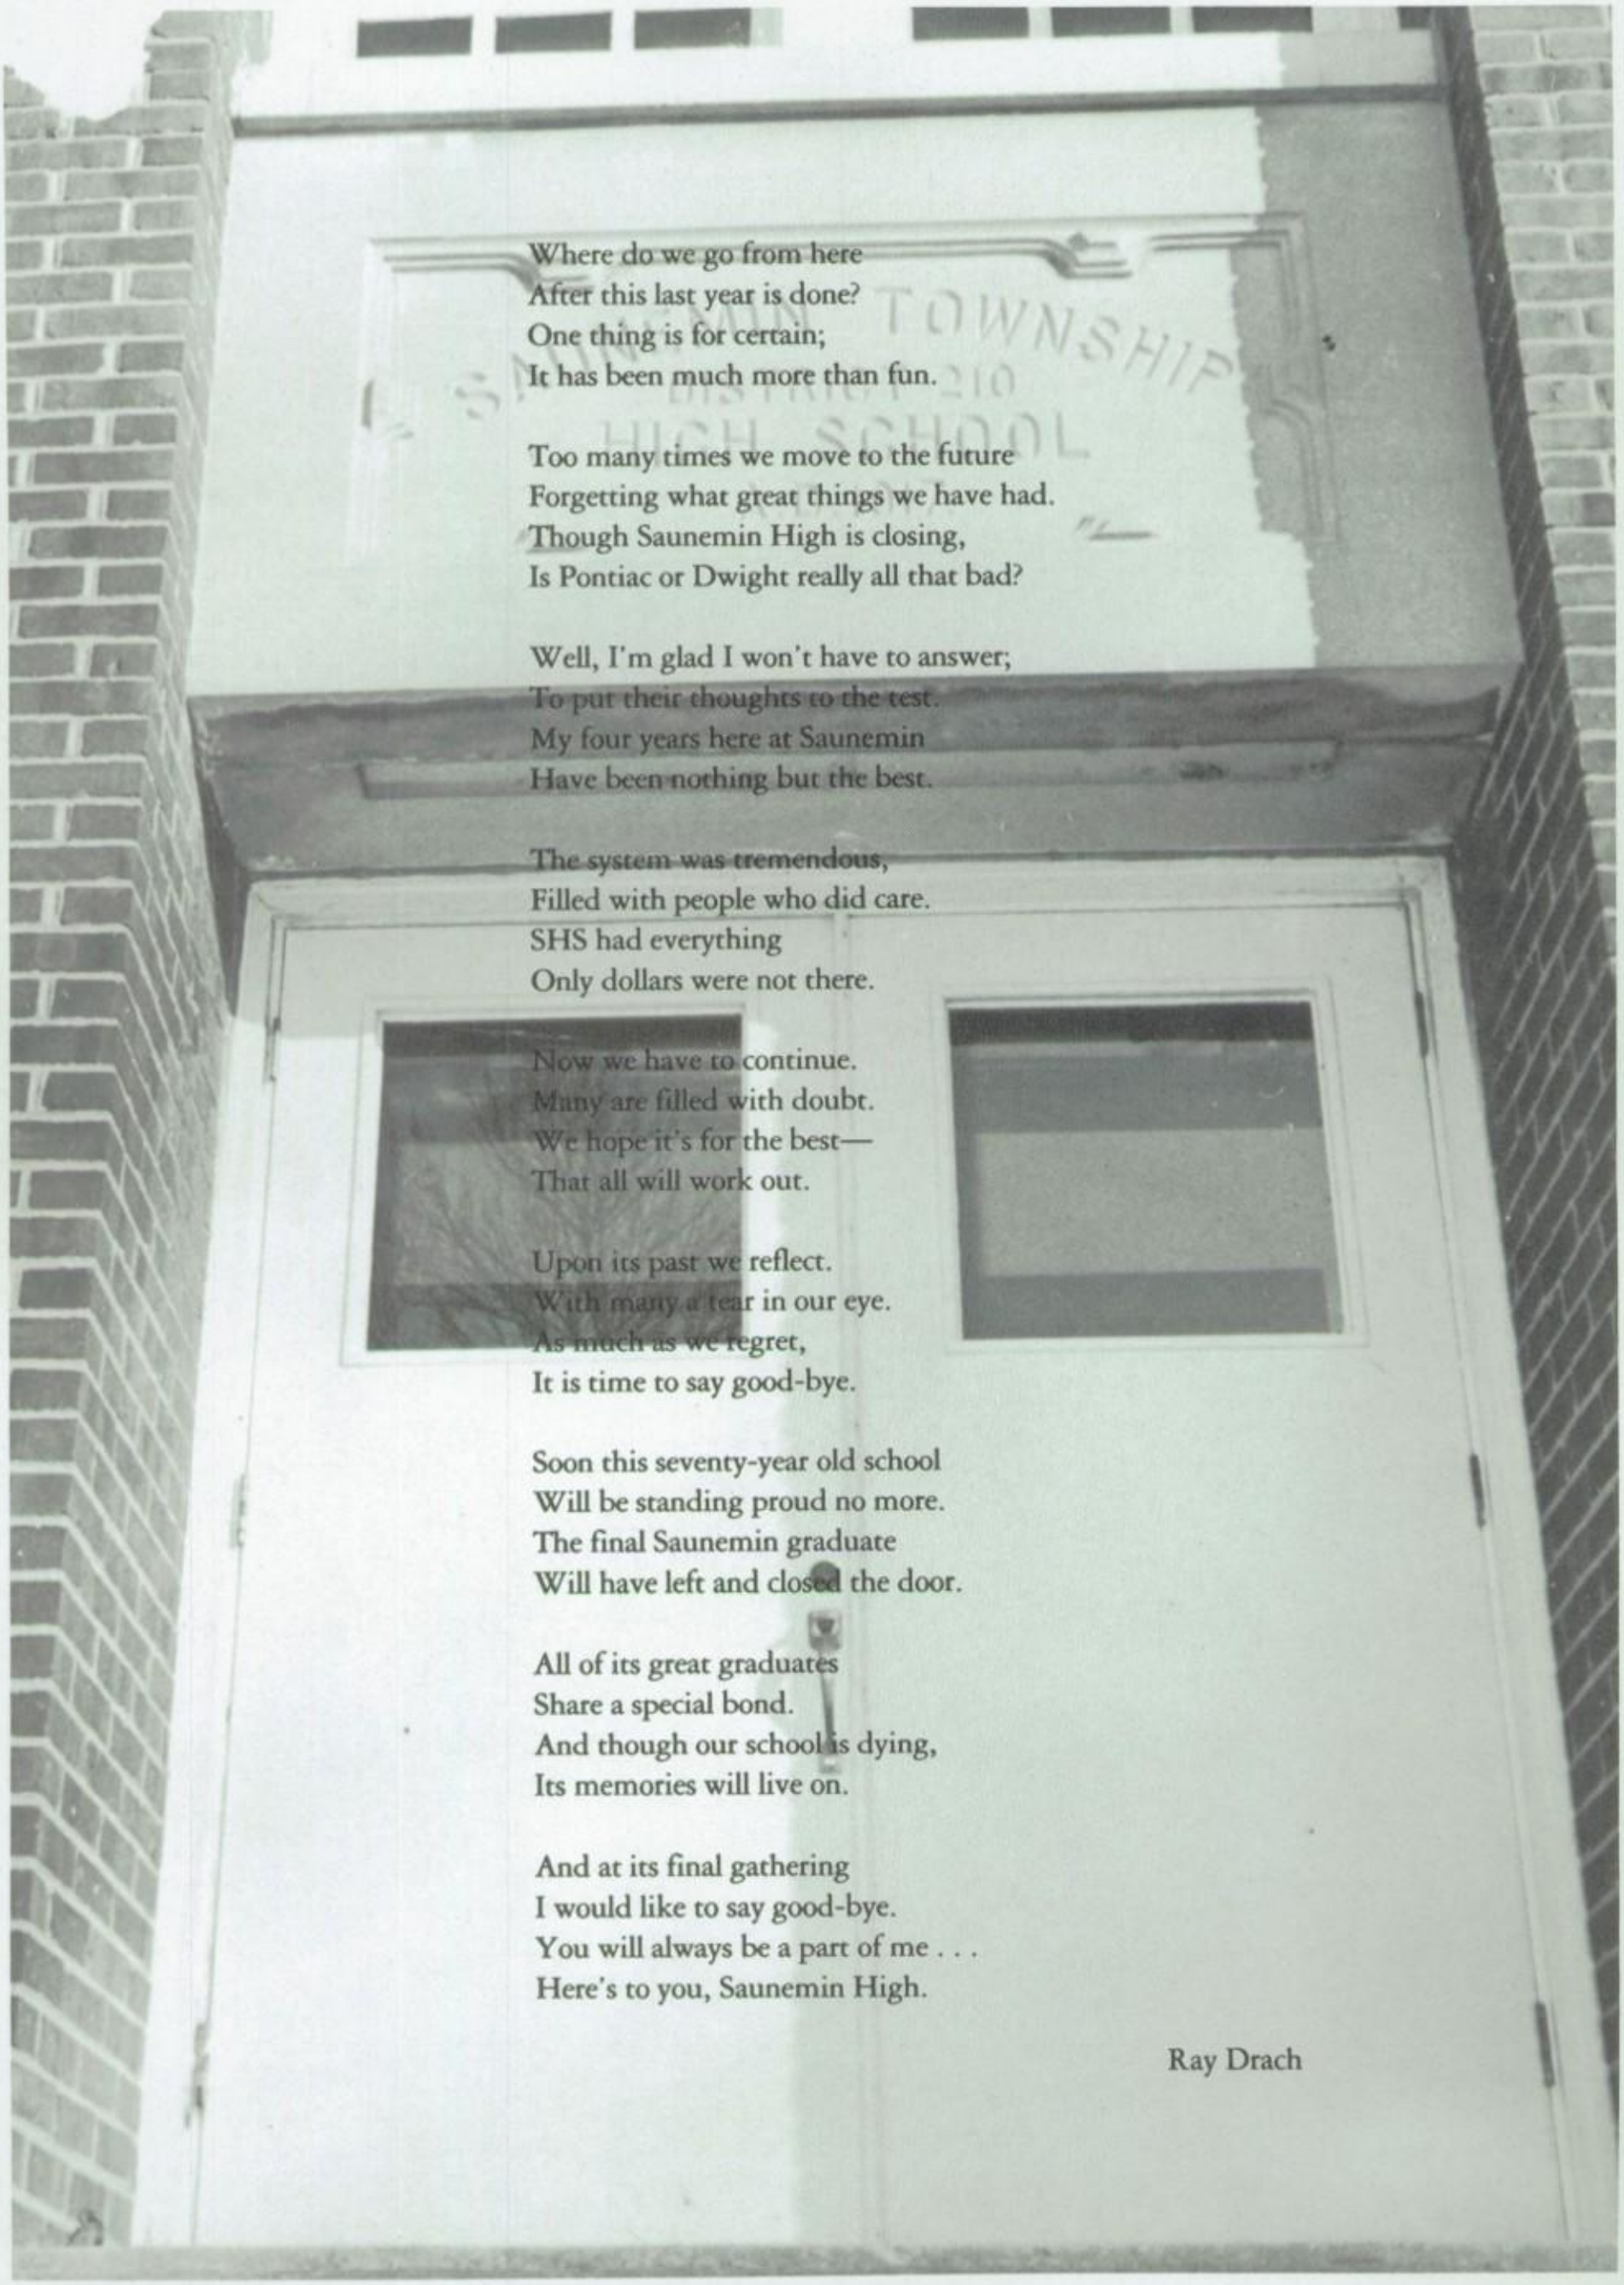
THE WAY IT WAS



JUNE 8, 1987



Where do we go from here
After this last year is done?
One thing is for certain;
It has been much more than fun.

Too many times we move to the future
Forgetting what great things we have had.
Though Saunemin High is closing,
Is Pontiac or Dwight really all that bad?

Well, I'm glad I won't have to answer;
To put their thoughts to the test.
My four years here at Saunemin
Have been nothing but the best.

The system was tremendous,
Filled with people who did care.
SHS had everything
Only dollars were not there.

Now we have to continue.
Many are filled with doubt.
We hope it's for the best—
That all will work out.

Upon its past we reflect.
With many a tear in our eye.
As much as we regret,
It is time to say good-bye.

Soon this seventy-year old school
Will be standing proud no more.
The final Saunemin graduate
Will have left and closed the door.

All of its great graduates
Share a special bond.
And though our school is dying,
Its memories will live on.

And at its final gathering
I would like to say good-bye.
You will always be a part of me . . .
Here's to you, Saunemin High.

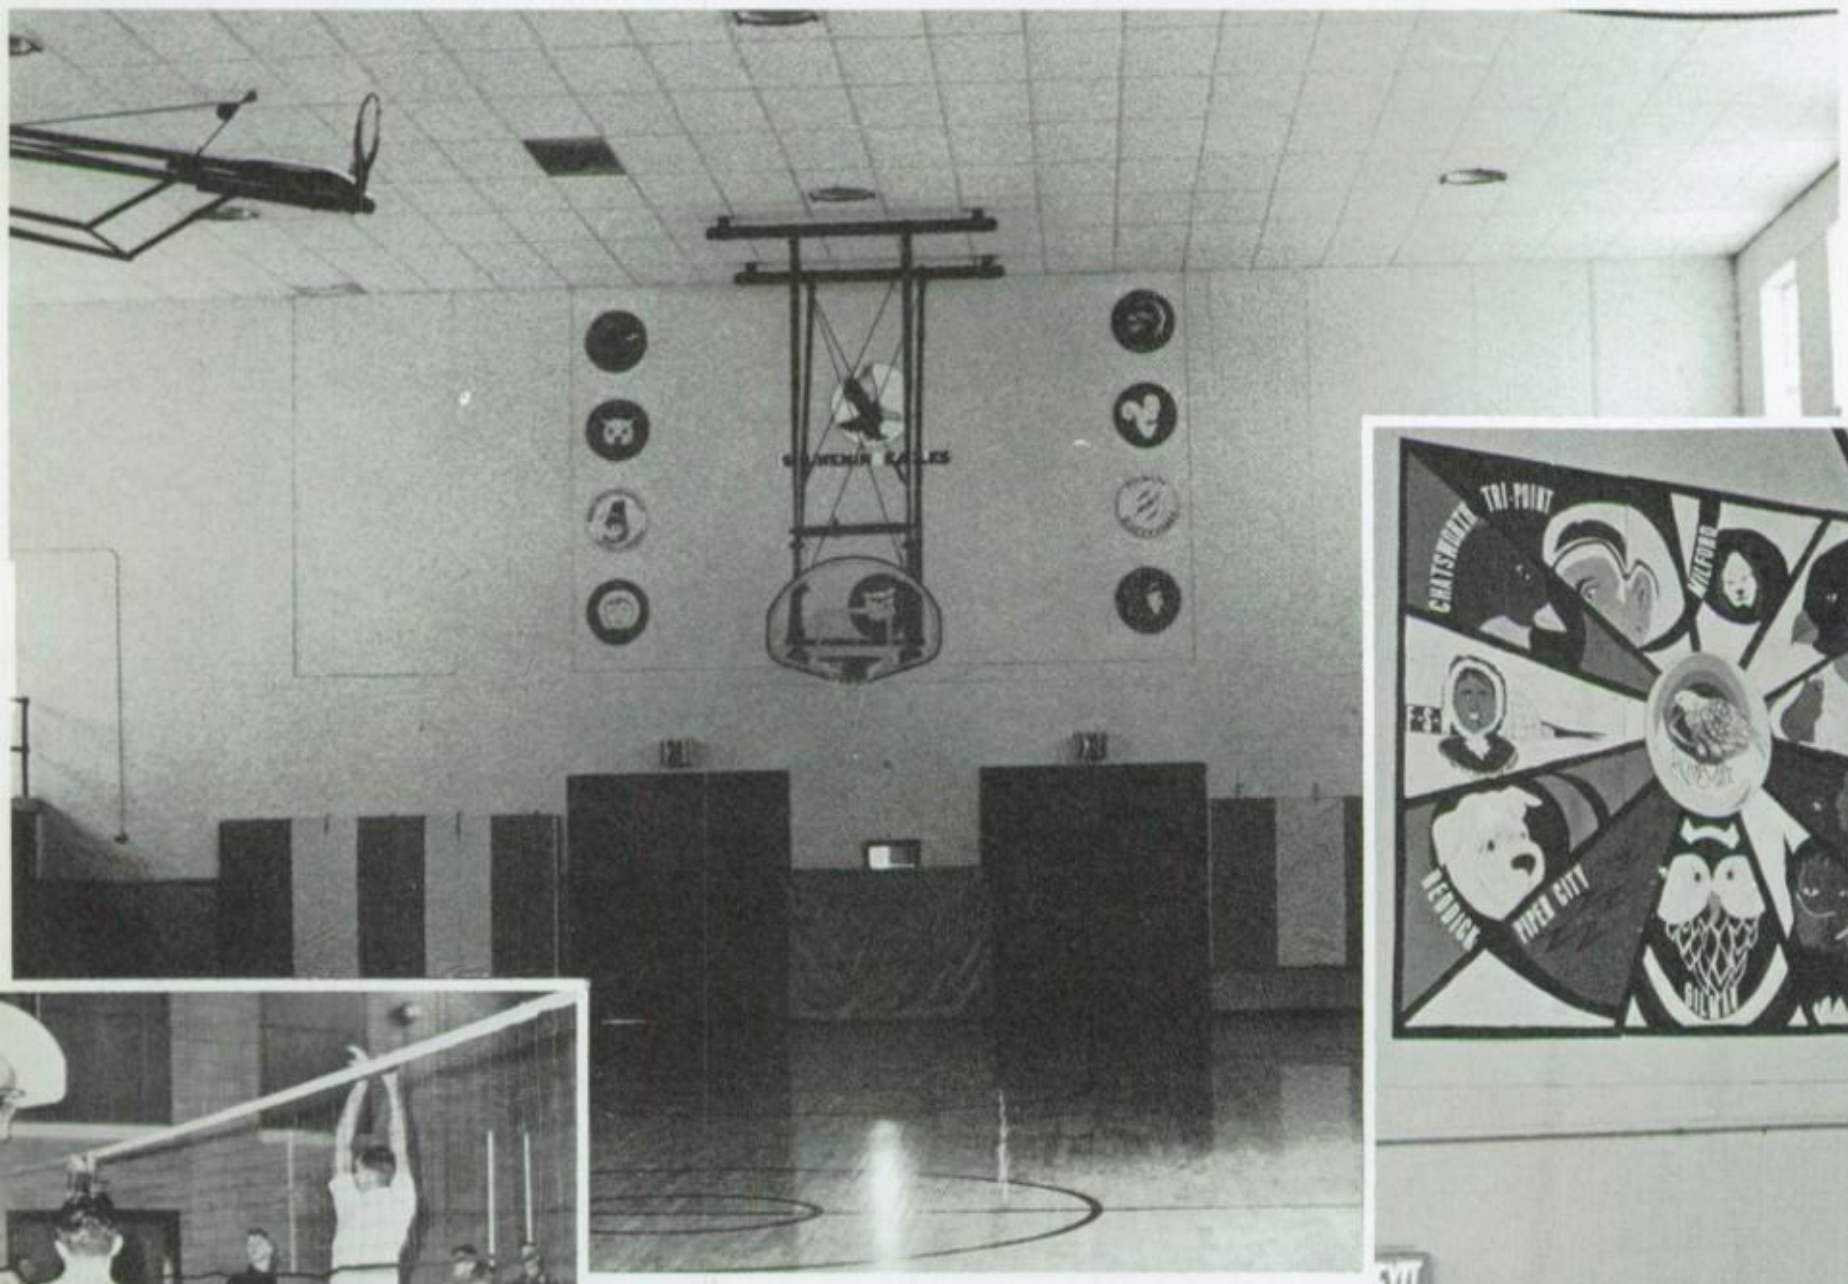
The same end of the gym from 3 different times. Notice the changes. We were unable to find an earlier picture, with the open balcony where the "coaches room" is now. Tradition has it James Hilti scored the 1st points in a high school basketball game here: Randy Rich scored the last.

Study hall, trying to show the desks and library counter at the end of the room. Tradition doesn't say who checked out the first or last book here, but does tell us there were 80 desks. They were removed in 1972 and replaced with tables. The counter must have been removed about 1974 or 75, memory is already starting to get a bit dim.



THE BUILDING

Pictures of the interior of the building as it appeared in the earlier days are difficult if not impossible to find. A lack of convenient flash photography and fast speed film probably made much of that type of picture taking more trouble than it was worth. We found a few to give us a glimpse of how things were, maybe there is enough there to make you start remembering another time.

The outside of the building hasn't changed too much. There have been lots of additions; some big (the gymnasium) and some small (the "tractor shed" or industrial arts wing or whatever). Some things were even taken away, the fire escape Mrs. Hanley discussed and the brick columns at the parking lot entrance and end of the sidewalk. Some of the smaller windows had been closed in with brick work, and all of the large windows had been replaced with smaller ones. The flag pole on top of the building had been broken or cut off and a new one installed in front.

In an effort to keep up with the "Life Safety" rules and regulations for operating a school in the state of Illinois, an iron fire escape stair was added to the outside of the building on the west side and a new door cut into the second level of the building. Later, smoke and fire containment doors were added at the top of the open staircase inside, and still later a set of doors on the main floor and the lower level. The glass transoms above the classroom doors had to be removed and boarded shut, more "Life Safety" work for the state. An entirely new fire alarm system with a central reporting station was installed. It worked wonderfully except when the electricity went off or the batteries were getting a little weak. Three times in about 20 minutes we had unannounced fire drills. The students, faculty and staff became very good at orderly, quiet exits. It's too bad Mrs. Hanley's fire escape was gone, the students would have had great fun.

Memories of Saunemin High

Mildred Mies Hanley

My earliest memories of Saunemin High School is when the school on the south side of the road burned in the night in 1917. I worried where the students would go to school, but they had classes in the town hall, and the churches until the new school was built.

'Twas in the year of '24
That we first entered High
Though we number 26,
Just 13 have stood by.
Now 13 may be unlucky
But we don't believe in fate
And have stuck together to the last
The Class of '28!

A very scared thirteen-year-old country girl who had been the only pupil in her grade from the Evvard entered high school. Our subjects were Algebra, English, Ancient History, Latin, and Home Economics or Agriculture—I chose Home Economics—We had no other choices of subject matter and Algebra was so hard! I took homework home every night. Our sophomore year it was geometry, English, Modern & Medieval History, Botany first semester and Zoology second semester, and Home Ec. for me. Junior year was Solid Geometry first semester and Advanced Algebra second semester, Chemistry or Physics, Economics, English, and U.S. History. Then as Seniors we finished what we hadn't taken as Juniors. I took Ag. I rather than Latin and was the only girl in the Ag. Class.

My first two years I rode a horse three miles to high school; then I drove a Model A Ford. We had more fun with that Model A!! A girlfriend would sit on the right side and work the choke and I managed the gas, the steering, and the shifting—Away we'd go for a ride "up town" at the noon hour. We'd dash up the stairs to the chemistry lab, slide down the fire escape, and go back up the stairs many times.

I graduated from high school in June of 1928 and was 17 in April of that year. I took a post graduate course of typing, shorthand, and bookkeeping. In the afternoons I answered the telephone and stayed in the office.

I started teaching in the fall of 1933, having graduated in June from University of Illinois, Home Economics College of Ag. The first year I taught Chemistry, General Science, Home Economics, Girls' P.E., and was Junior Class sponsor, responsible for the Junior-Senior Banquet.

I taught Home Economics until June, 1940, finishing with Home Economics I, II, III, and Boys' Home Economics. The most challenging and enjoyable part of my teaching was the Boys' Home Economics. The first class had five boys in it, and the last two or three had to be limited to sixteen boys. How well I remember when one of the boys came to me and asked, "Miss Mies, may we make our own aprons for Foods?"—We did!!

We were not permitted to dance at Saunemin High School. One of the early classes wanted to dance so we could have a Junior-Senior Prom. I contacted several of the board members and they said it was O.K. with them, but I'd have to ask the board president. I drove to the president's home and he was cultivating corn with a team of horses. It was a long walk across that plowed field! I asked him if we could dance at our Junior-Senior Banquet. He hesitated and finally said, "You may dance if you don't dance in the school building." I hurried back to school and reported to the class and they were jubilant!! We began to make plans and had our Junior-Senior Prom in the Masonic Lodge Hall above the tavern in Saunemin. It was a lot of work—but we danced!!!

Our children, Charles ('62), Dean ('63), and Marilyn ('65), graduated from Saunemin High School. My father, Charles B. Mies, was on the Saunemin High School Board for many years and my husband, Ray Hanley, was on the Saunemin High School Board when we changed to a Unit District.

I have many, many more fond memories of S.T.H.S. and S.H.S.

A Look Into the Past Thoughts of the Future

Arvesta Young Jensen

When I entered Saunemin Township High School in August of 1925, I was instilled with a loyalty to the school that has carried through the many years that have elapsed between 1925 and 1987.

I have never known a town, or school, that has shared this loyalty like Saunemin. Saunemin was always ready and willing to support the many school projects that developed over the years.

In 1925 the high school building had a basement that housed the ag room, one other classroom, a small gym and two restrooms; the first floor had the office, two classrooms, the library, the study hall and two cloakrooms; the second floor had four classrooms that housed the home ec., dining room, sewing room, and chemistry laboratory.

The fire escape from the chemistry lab provided lots of noontime activity. Students would run up the stairs, slide down the fire escape, then go back up to repeat the process over and over.

Football, track, and basketball were the sports.

Basketball games, class plays, and other school activities were held at the Saunemin Town Hall.

Country students carried their own lunches and town students walked home for lunch if distance permitted and time allowed. If not, they carried a lunch.

Country children furnished their own transportation or rode with a neighbor family. When the car reached the parking lot, it stayed there until dismissal time (unless a written permit from parents requested otherwise on special occasion)—no noontime trips or driving allowed.

Junior and Senior class plays were held each year and tryouts held for the parts. Tryouts were held each year for glee clubs and special music programs.

Changes over the years included the home ec. department, shop, and gym built to the north of the Saunemin Township High School building. One of the greatest changes was when Saunemin became a unit district.

Baccalaureate, class night, graduation, followed by alumni banquet and initiation, were always important closing time highlights each school year. The members of the graduating class were always guests of the alumni association and each year a committee of alumni members initiated the new class. Alumni meant enough to me that John and I attended each year from 1929, when I graduated, to 1975 when I was hospitalized. In 1976 at the alumni banquet, a motion was made, seconded, and passed that I be given credit for perfect attendance. John and I continued attending through 1985 and Mary Young accompanied me as my guest in 1986. Alumni banquets were held at the Saunemin Methodist Church, school gym, and in later years at the Palamar and Pontiac Elks Club. As I look back and think about the faculty, my classmates and friends of Saunemin Township High School it is with loyalty and pride that I realize how much Saunemin High and Alumni have meant to me over the years.

I'm proud to have been a student, graduate, and alumni of S.T.H.S. and to have been a kindergarten teacher in Saunemin Unit 6 for a number of years. These were happy years for me.

At the close of this school year, there are to be many changes. How will the closing of Saunemin High play a part in the future of the students, graduates, parents, friends, and residents of the community? Only time will tell.

COINCIDENCE??

Was it coincidence or fate that had one of the first graduates of a four year high school at Saunemin, Mrs. Oleta (Belcher) Rich, have a granddaughter, Susie Rich as one of the last graduates? Mrs. John D. Rich was one of the graduates of the first class, in 1918. In fact, her name was the first one listed alphabetically, so she may actually have been the first. Susie was a member of the last class, 1987, but didn't quite make the last graduate, there were four more listed after her name on the program. Mrs. Rich talked of attending classes in the Opera House while the new high school building was finished, of playing girls basketball, cheerleaders for boys basketball, and boys who left for the war and didn't finish high school. After graduating from Saunemin Township High School, she attended the Normal School for a short time and taught in one of the local rural grade schools.

The 1904 Commencement Program. At the time, a two year high school, with classes in the advanced room of the grade school building.

FACULTY

MEMORIES

As much as everyone thought there should be, there is no "master list" of the faculty of Saunemin High School. In fact, the only definite record we could find were the past issues of the yearbook, and 1932 is as far back as "The Owl" goes. The earlier faculty listed are from a variety of sources: publications we found, pictures that were identified, alumni memories, and anything else that was available. We know the list is incomplete, some names may be spelled wrong. We hope you will forgive us if we omitted you or your favorite teacher. Faculty members are generally listed in chronological order, with both maiden and married names for the women teachers you may have known either way.

ALUMNI GALLERY

All known class pictures are included in this section. There are some blanks in the early years; possibly there are pictures somewhere, but we were unable to locate them. After 1981, the board stopped requiring the seniors to go to one photographer for a sitting so no composite pictures were made after that. We sincerely hope this section will reacquaint you with "old" friends and make the sun shine in some long dark closets.

Saunemin School about 1900, when Mr. Dudley Fultz was serving as principal. Mr. Fultz returned several times to the alumni banquets and presented this picture in 1969.

From A Livingston County Scrapbook (1855-1975), by Lucille Goodrich, (1979).

Standing on the site of the present high school building, the frame structure that served as grade and high school in Saunemin was destroyed by fire in 1917. About this time, the school changed from offering a two to a four year high school program. The first four year class graduated in 1918.

"In 1899 Dudley Friltz (sic), photographer in Fairbury who died in 1974 at the age of 102, came to the village of Saunemin as principal. He was thought by some members of the community to be too young and radical. He grew a Van Dyke beard and adopted pince nez glasses, which he did not need, in order to appear more mature. After three years he left for "greener pastures."

We were unable to locate pictures of the classes from 1897 to 1902, 1904, and 1906 to 1917. If the school ever did have any of these, they were probably destroyed in the 1917 fire. For reasons as yet unknown, there doesn't appear to be a picture of the 1976 class either. Hopefully, one won't turn up the day after tomorrow. The school board stopped requiring all seniors to have a picture sitting at the same photographer in the fall of 1981, so there are no composite pictures from 1982 to 1987. With enough time, most of these could possibly have been put together, but time wasn't one of the things on our team.

The class of 1917 was the last of the two-year graduates, which may explain why there was only one graduate listed. Four-year graduates started with 1918. Nineteen students finished that year, and they also had the honor of being the first class to graduate at the new high school building. It might be interesting to note that more students finished the first year than the last year the school operated (1986-87).

The first baseball season for SHS was 1970-71, according to the records in the yearbook they didn't win a game. It was a building year. They continued to build until the Regional Championship in 1983, and didn't really stop there. Both before and after SHS started baseball, several graduates have played softball for a number of the area teams.

TRACK

Although SHS has had a track team since "before dirt," there were no pictures of anything available. The first yearbook mentions a track team, and every volume since then has a picture of the track team. But no loose pictures around. So we found one of a late sixties warmup, and the girls in gymnastics.

As a side light, Odell High School also closed its doors at the end of the 1986-87 school year. Their students will also be attending Pontiac Township High School.

IN CONCLUSION

To begin with, this section of the last Saunemin High School Yearbook was to have been a history of the school. We were looking for a way to save the factual information that can so easily become occluded with the passage of time. That quickly became too big a job for our limited amount of time, resources, and the number of pages we had to fit the material into. It was at this point we changed to a philosophy of providing something to pull those memories of Saunemin High School to the front of our minds. Certainly, not everything we would like to see was dealt with, some things were not done as well as could have been, and we probably made some mistakes, if not in the design and layout then in the information displayed. Please enjoy our efforts and share the memories with others.

THE HIGH SCHOOL OWL

Volume I - - - - - Number 1

Published by the students of Saunemin Township High School, Saunemin, Illinois.

FRIDAY, MARCH 31st, 1922

EDITORIAL STAFF

Editor in Chief----Clarence Winters
Business Manager--------Glenn Coss
Associate Editor-------Ruth Ringler
Faculty Editor--Miss Geneva Childs

What is to be the fate of the township and community high schools in the smaller rural communities? In most cases the proposition to organize them won by very narrow margins, and the opposition has never ceased. During the unusually prosperous years preceding 1920, the opposition lulled somewhat, but this spring it has burst out again, stronger than ever.

What will be the outcome? Are we to lose these splendid schools and go back to the old days of one, two and three-year high schools in the small towns, poorly equipped and cramped in nearly every way imaginable? Or will we say that whatever comes, education is the most important of all public service and must not go backward?

This question must be met and settled. It is up to you.

—OWL—

THE RISE AND VALUE OF OUR INSTITUTION

(By Ruth Ringler)

No part of the public school system has shown such remarkable growth during the last biennium as the high school. There have been various causes, social, economic and otherwise which have brought about an increased attendance thruout Illinois.

The enrollment at the birth of our institution was small, but with the introduction of our vocational work last year new students were brought to our school. The credit for the increasing enrollment might well be given to our present principal. He has worked for both a larger attendance and additional courses.

The benefits a student gathers from a high school course are not fully realized by some. Our institution gives something more to us than what we gather from our books, and that is the opportunity to link up our education with some of the other things of life.

Questions such as the following are often asked by those who have only considered one side of this problem. First, What good does History do any one? It might be answered correctly by merely saying that it shows people of today how they can profit by the experiences of others. History is largely the study of behavior. From its pages the student can learn how men conducted themselves in complex and trying situations in other ages.

Historical study is especially valuable in a self-governing republic like ours, in which every man must be to some extent a statesman, able to form rational judgments on political questions.

In some such way the other branches of our school courses help the student in practical life as well as being academically educational.

—OWL—

Mr. Robert Carson, a member of the class of '20, visited classes at the high school last Friday.

In our searching for information to include, we found this editorial from Volume I, Number 1 of "The High School Owl." It was a small quarterly publication that first appeared in March of 1922. The concern over the "fate of the township and community high schools" goes back at least 65 years, and still isn't really settled. Isn't it odd how things change so much; but then not at all?
